

We Begin Again

© Sue Precourt Reddin

$\text{♩} = 80$

Baritone

Piano

Oboe

Strings

mp

mf

f If

7

B

you've been through what we've been through the lo-sses that we've had 'How could life be so bad?' that's what you'd

Pno.

13

B

say and if your heart should break a-part come cra-shing to the ground with pie-ces all a -

Pno.

Str.

20

B

round what would you do? You'd pick it up you'd try to mend it oh so ten-der-ly

Pno.

Oboe

Str.

26

B

and when the sha - ttered parts won't fit then you be - gin to see That life's a pu - zle

Pno.

Oboe

Str.

32

B

when we lose what we love the most that's when wis-dom's host can en-ter in the

Pno.

Oboe

Str.

39

B

mis-sing parts gone from our hearts will help us to re - bound and see there's o - ther pie - ces to be

Pno.

Oboe

Str.

45

B

found We'll hold them up a-against the sky and let the light fill in the em-pty

Pno.

Oboe

Str.

51

B

pla - ces in our hearts that we be - gin a - gain 'Cause all of us must

Pno.

Oboe

Str.

56

B
learn to lose the in-no-cence we had _____ and that is not so bad to have a wi-ser you

Pno.

Oboe

Str.

62

B
Though our hearts will al-ways have the cracks a li - ttle sore what has life been

Pno.

Oboe

Str.

68

B

for ex-cept to learn a-new To hold them up a-against the sky and let the light fill in

Pno.

Oboe

Str.

74

B

the em-pty pla - ces in our hearts that we be - gin a - gain

Pno.

Oboe

Str.

79

B
To hold them up a - gainst the sky and let the light fill in

Pno.

Oboe

Str.

83

B
the em - pty pla - ces in our hearts that we be - gin a - gain now

Pno.

Oboe

Str.